Supervisors,

Supporting the effort to immunize children at school promotes taking parents out of the equation. This needs to stop immediately!

Parent's are a child's caretaker. They are their guardians, they support their children financially, physically and emotionally. There is a reason why children should not make decisions for themselves, they do not have the wisdom and life experience to make them. Parent's make decisions for their children. NO ONE else should have that authority, period!

STOP forcing government on us to replace a parent's duty!

Thank you, Terra Radliff
