June 7, 2020	3,098	148	205	-1	1,623
June 8, 2020	3,154	56	205	0	957

I have attached updated versions of Pages 1 through 8 that now includes Week 23. (Attachment 1) While the Week 23 cases are down, they are still higher than any previous week other than Week 22.

Also attached are demographics from inception to date on Pima County's COVID-19 cases by age group, race/ethnicity, gender and hospitalized cases by age, race/ethnicity, and deaths by age, race/ethnicity and gender. (Attachment 2)

Finally, data regarding available ventilators available and in use, hospital admissions and discharges for the time period from May 31, 2020 to June 6, 2020 is attached. Of interest is Intensive Care Unit (ICU) bed use has increased in the last two days of the analysis from 148 in use to 233 in use. In addition, while ventilators over the period had been generally in the vicinity of 40 per day, for June 6, they now are reported at 95, or a doubling in use. (Attachment 3)
